

Family Promise of Irving was founded in 2010, and is a non-profit affiliate of Family Promise, headquartered in Summit, NJ.

It is a faith-based, social service agency that supports families with children who are experiencing homelessness.

- ★ Support is given to families through a network of local faith communities who use their facilities to provide safe, overnight shelter for 3-4 families, one week at a time, 4-5 times a year on a rotating basis.
- ★ Families arrive at the host congregation in the evening (between 5-6pm) and leave the next morning (between 5-6am) every day for 7 days, before moving to the next congregation.
- ★ With 14 Partner Congregations and several Corporate Partners, Family Promise of Irving relies on more than 400 trained volunteers.
- ★ During the day, the families work at the Day Center with the Executive Director and Case Manager (professional social service providers) who assist them in setting and reaching goals that will allow them to move into permanent housing and return to self-sufficiency.
- ★ Family Promise of Irving's modest budget is funded through direct cash and in-kind contributions from individuals, companies and organizations, and from 2-3 fundraising events each year.

Entering the program

- ★ Families are referred by local social service agencies, churches and schools.
- ★ They are interviewed extensively to determine their suitability for the FPI program.
- ★ Before being accepted into the program, adults undergo drug screening and background checks to determine if there is violent criminal history or current drug use, which would eliminate them from the program.
